

REIMAGINING THE FUTURE:

MOVING BEYOND TALK TO ACTION
2019 ANNUAL TRAINING CONFERENCE

HYATT REGENCY ATLANTA
265 PEACHTREE STREET NE
ATLANTA, GA 30303
(404) 577-1234

Rehabilitation Research Capacity Building Rehabilitation Research and Grant Writing Training and Technical Assistance Pre- Conference Training

July 17, 2019

9:00am-4:30pm

Hyatt Regency Atlanta Hotel

Sponsored by Langston University Rehabilitation Research and Training Center
(LU-RRTC) on Research and Capacity Building for Minority Entities

Who Should Attend

New grant writers, faculty members, undergraduate and graduate students, post-doctoral fellows, practitioners, and grant writers needing to learn new ideas.

Purpose: This grant writing training is designed to increase the number of individuals (e.g., faculty, students, and practitioners) who have the required skills to write competitive and winning federally funded research proposals

Objectives

1. To increase knowledge and skills that can benefit participants in every phase of the grant-writing process, from preparation through post-submittal follow up.
2. understanding "behind-the-scenes" decisions that determine proposal acceptance and denial.
3. Create awareness about federal (e.g., NIDILRR & NIH) research and development funding opportunities.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION, PLEASE CONTACT

Dr. Andre L. Washington; E-mail: andre.washington@langston.edu
Phone: 405.530.7525 or 405-662-0946; Fax: 405.962.1638

LANGSTON UNIVERSITY

Rehabilitation Research and Training Center (RRTC)
on Research and Capacity Building for Minority Entities

TRAVEL SCHOLARSHIP MAY BE AVAILABLE

(Airfare, Room, Per Diem, and Taxi)

Funding Agency:

 NATIONAL INSTITUTE ON DISABILITY,
INDEPENDENT LIVING, AND REHABILITATION RESEARCH
NIDILRR